

JLC Connecting Wire Loop

JLC Connecting Loop is the fastener that connecting precast wall panels to each other, or to a column. JLC Connecting Loop can be installed within the thickness of the precast wall panel, so that it is no need to worry about surface finishing or rust of the product.

When installing at the construction site, it is required to bend the wire loop with a tool and reinforce by putting vertical rebar through the "ring" of the wire loop. Place a formwork to joint part between the wall panels and concrete grout is poured or pumped into the joint.

JLC Connecting Loop enables easy and quick installation of precast wall panel.

Also, we have also assortment of jigs that enable easily connect the JLC Connection Loop with formwork when making precast wall panel.

When using in salt damage region, we can provide JLC Connection Loop made by stainless steel.

